1. The drawings were received on August 19, 2004. These drawings are approved.
2. Figures 2, 3a, and 3b should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.121(d)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.
3. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
4. Claims 18, 19, and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Heisley et al (US 6,333,623) in view of the prior art.

Heisley discloses a voltage regulator as previously noted and as now recited by claims 18, 19, and 22 except for including a constant current source in the shunt regulator. The prior art figure 3b illustrates that shunt regulators including a constant current source (B) were old and known in the art at the time of the invention. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have modified the voltage regulator of Heisley by including a constant current source in the shunt regulator in order to provide a smooth and consistent current to the load from the input power source as taught by the prior art.

5. Claims 18, 19, and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kadanka (US 5,966,004) in view of the prior art.

Kadanka discloses a voltage regulator as previously noted and as now recited by claims 18, 19, and 22 except for including a constant current source in the shunt regulator. The prior art figure 3b illustrates that shunt regulators including a constant current source (B) were old and known in the art at the time of the invention. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have modified the voltage regulator of Kadanka by including a constant current source in the shunt regulator in order to provide a smooth and consistent current to the load from the input power source as taught by the prior art.

6. Claims 20, 21, and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kadanka in view of the prior art as applied to claim 18 above.

Kadanka and the prior art collectively teach a voltage regulator as recited by claims 20 and 21 except for specifying that the first and second voltages are different so that the series and shunt regulators have different outputs. It is noted that Kadanka also has designed the series and shunt regulators to have different outputs by adding an offset voltage source (290) between the reference voltage and the operational amplifier (240). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have modified the voltage regulator collectively taught by Kadanka and the prior art by, instead of altering the reference voltage provided to the operational amplifier, altering the second voltage provided to the operational amplifier by utilizing a voltage divider that instead provides two different voltages as the first and second voltages since comparing the same reference voltage to different voltages or comparing different reference voltages to the same voltage are obvious equivalents providing the very same results.

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 18-23 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

9. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Jeffrey L. Sterrett whose telephone number is (571) 272-2085. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Thursday & 8:00am-5:00pm.
